

IX. Ispahan : le pavillon Ali Qâpu.

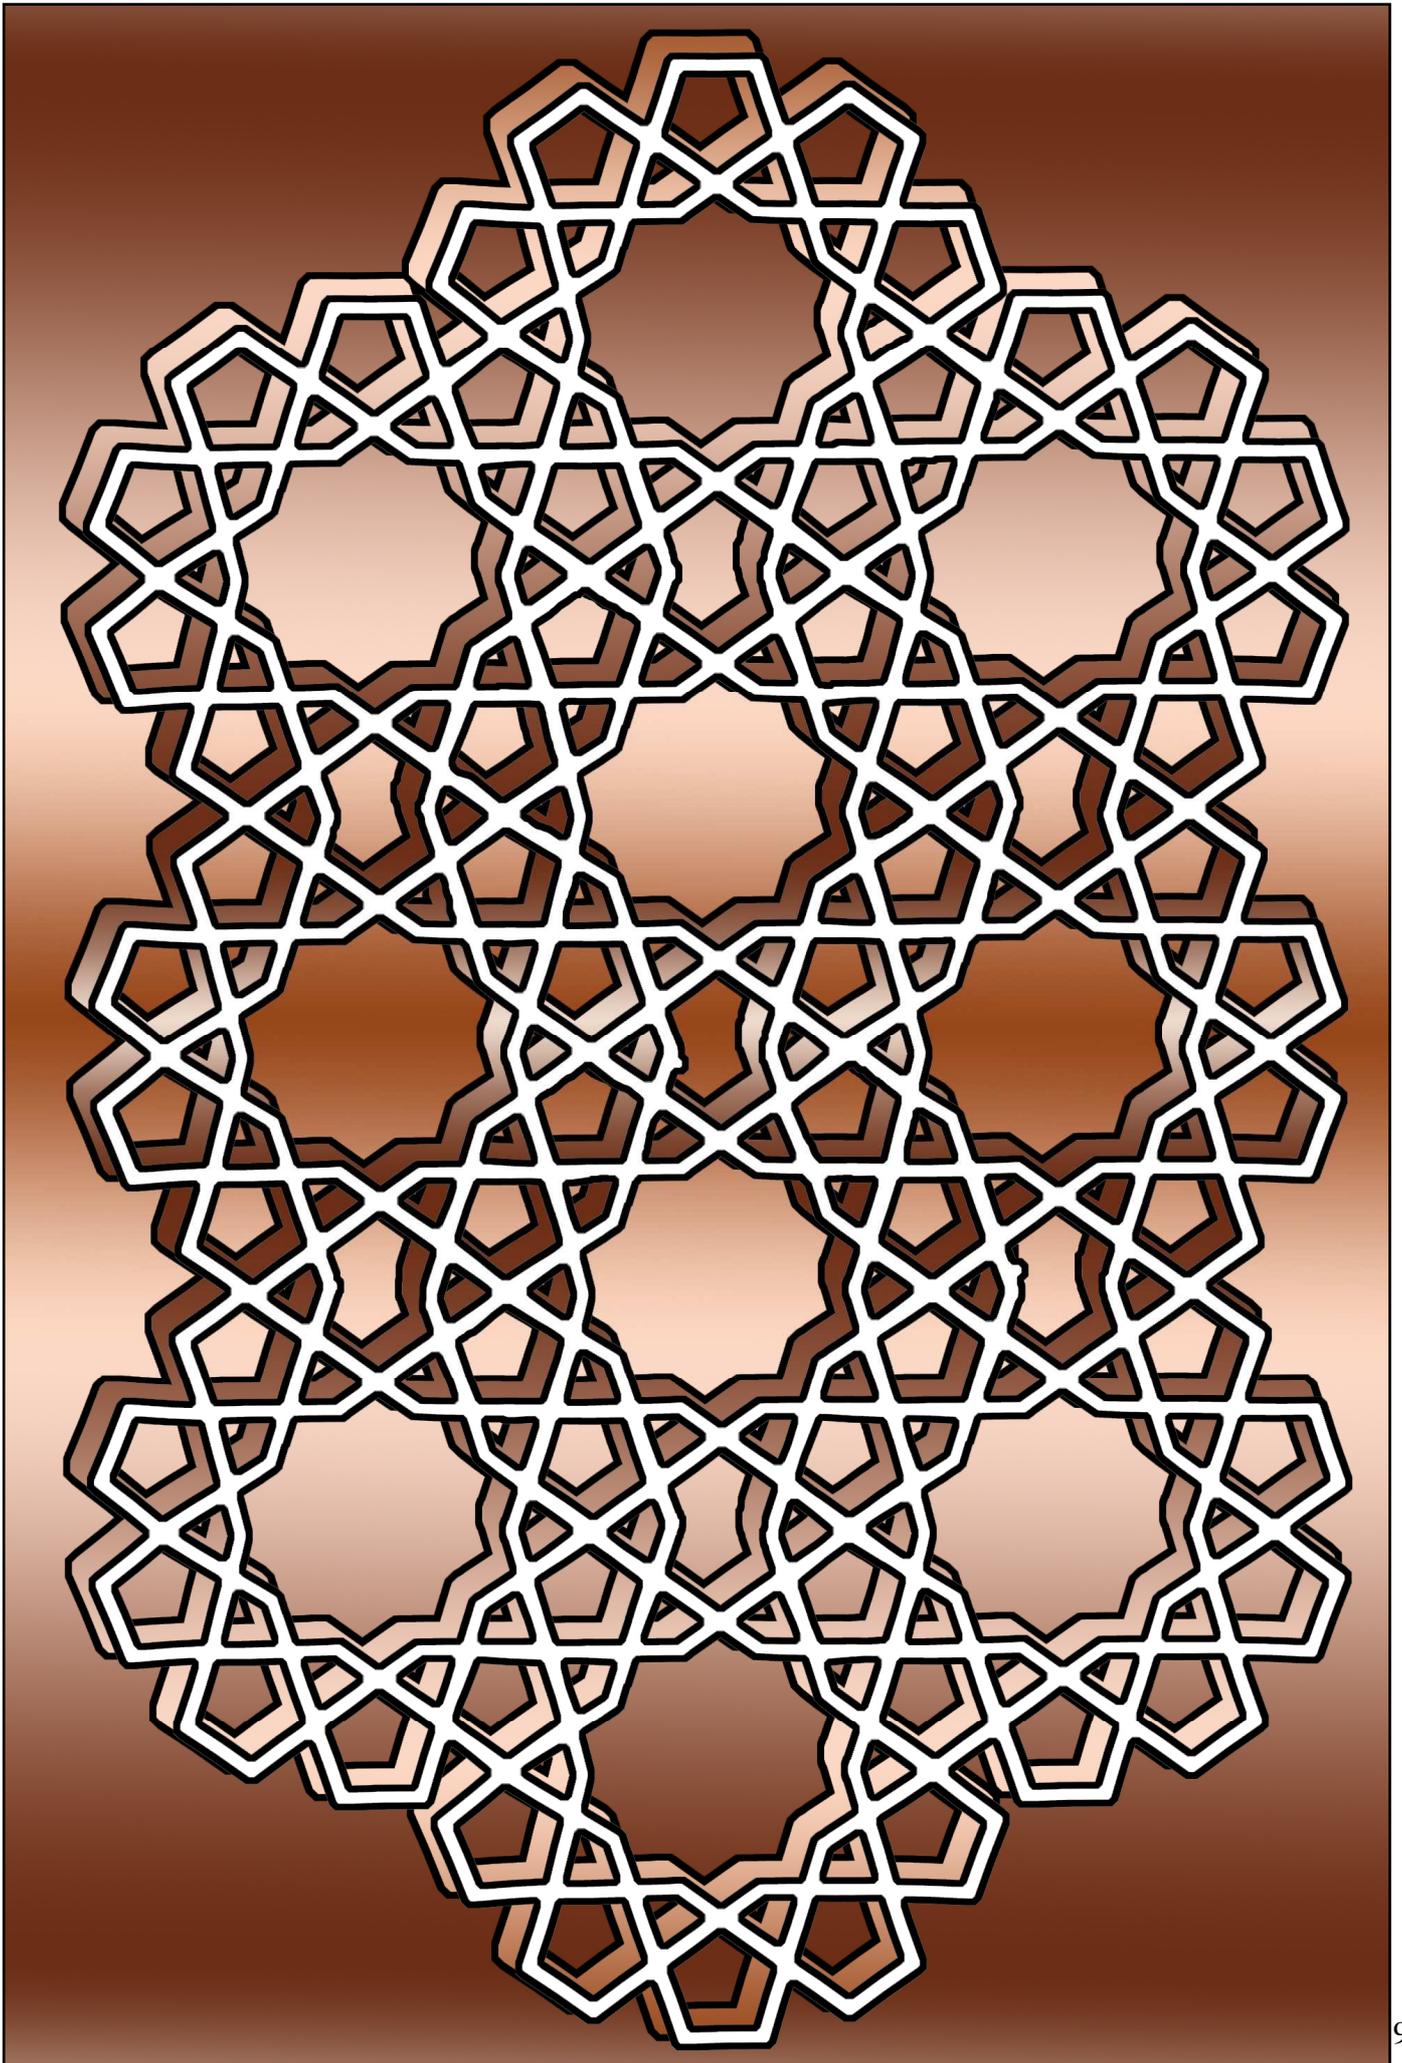

Sur la place de l'Imam et face à la mosquée du Cheikh Lotfollah, le pavillon Ali Qâpu permettait au shah d'assister aux parades militaires et aux tournois de polo. Il accueillait des bureaux administratifs et servait de salle d'audience pour les délégations étrangères.

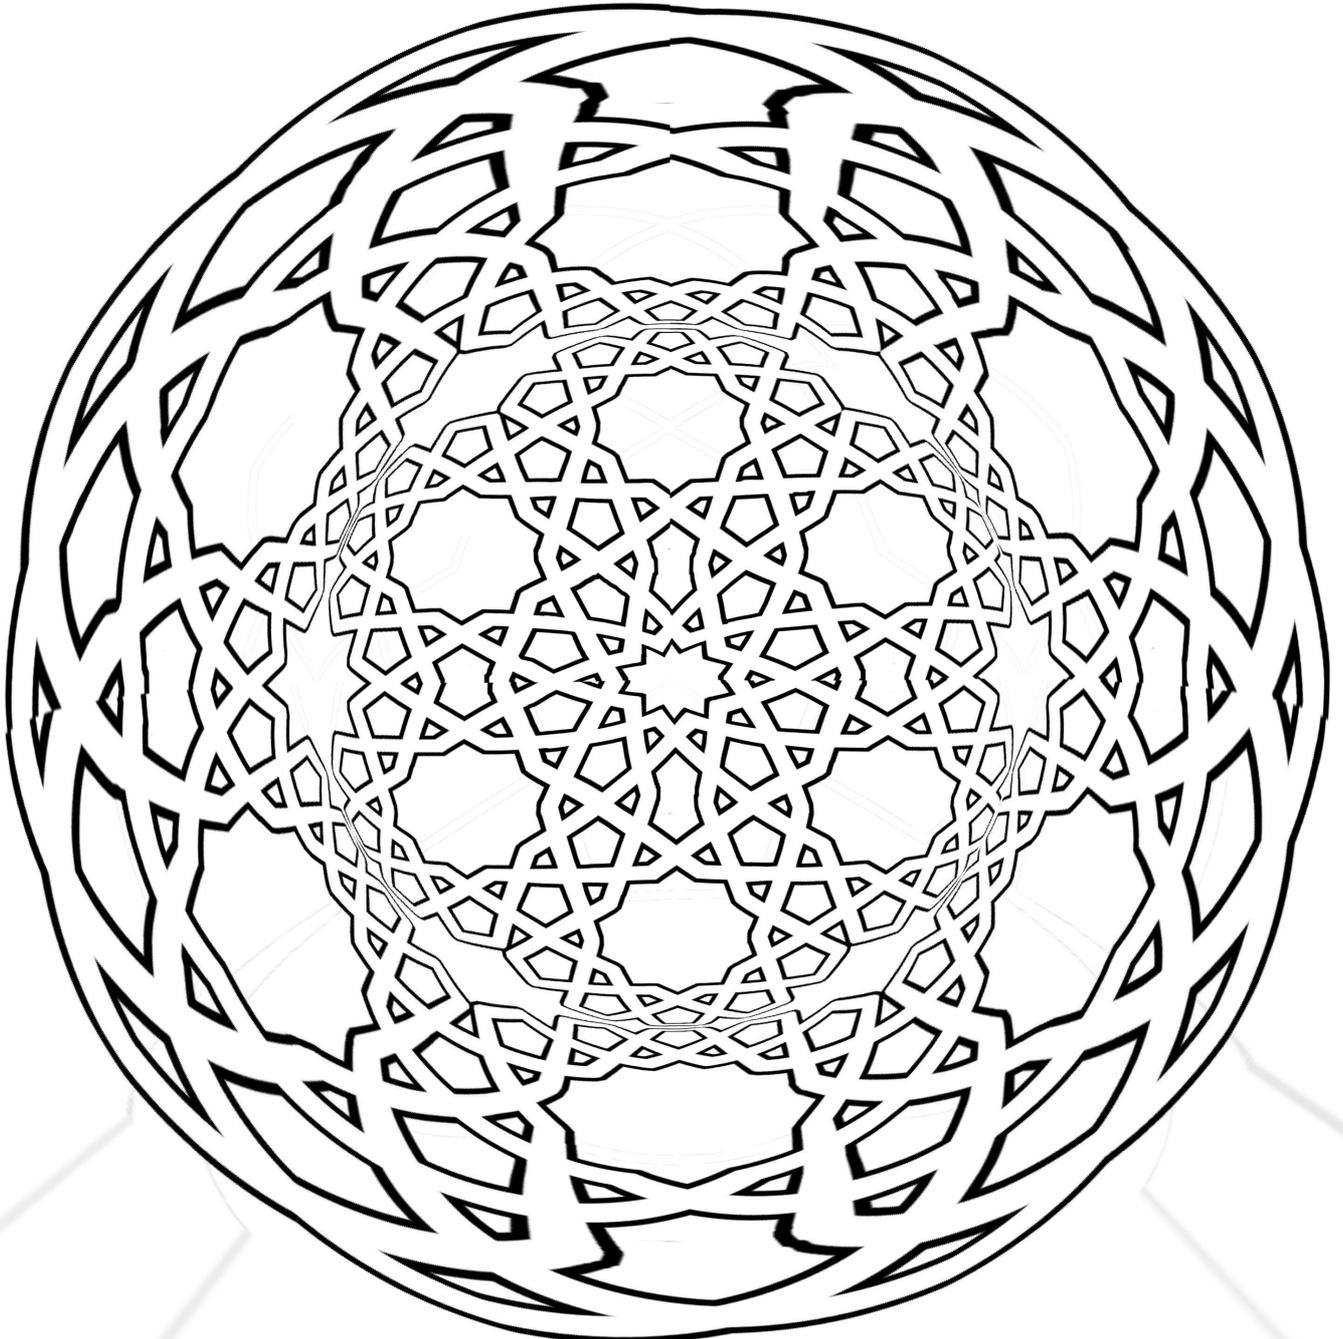

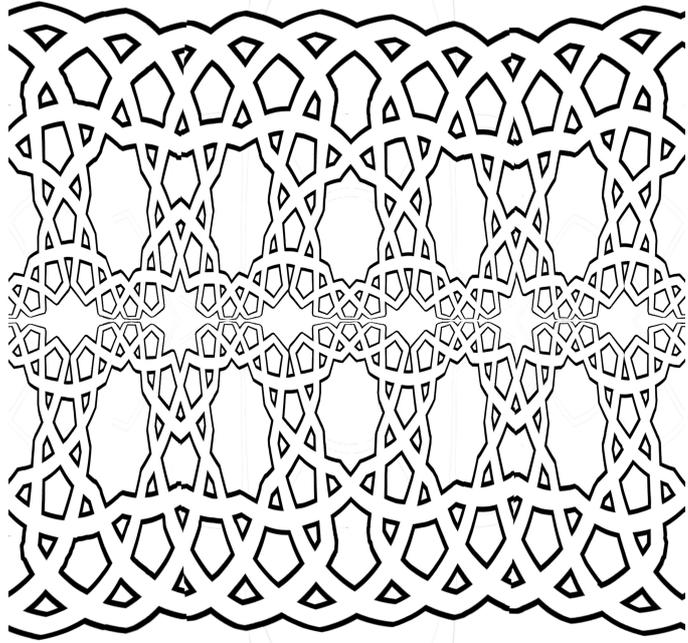

De nombreuses arabesques géométriques et multicolores décorent le plafond du talar du premier étage soutenu par 18 colonnes de bois élancées,

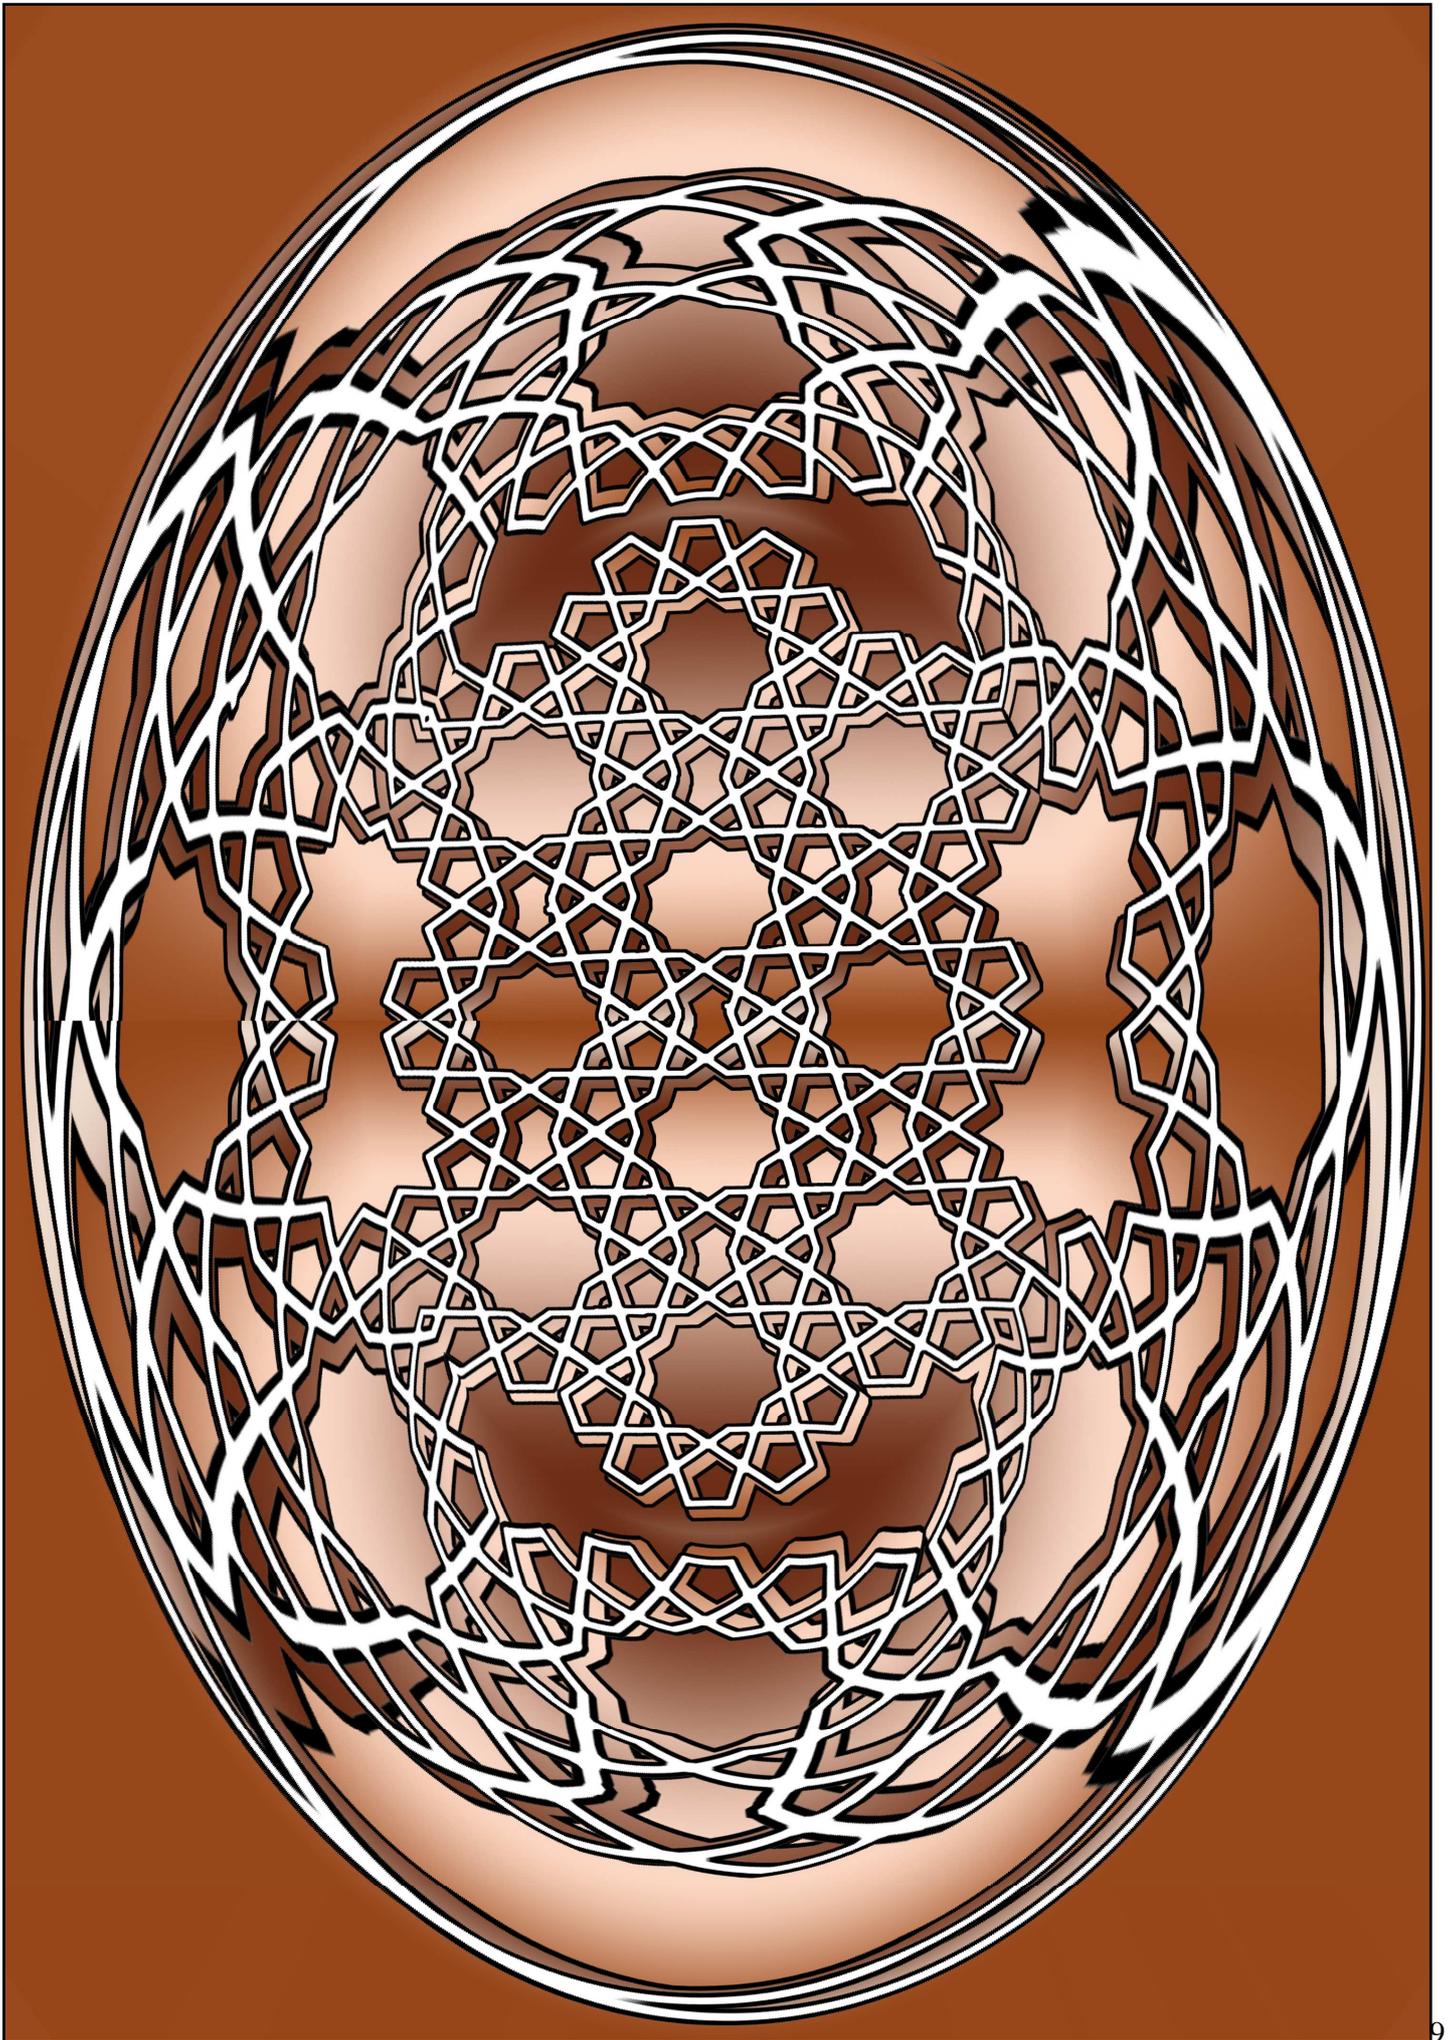

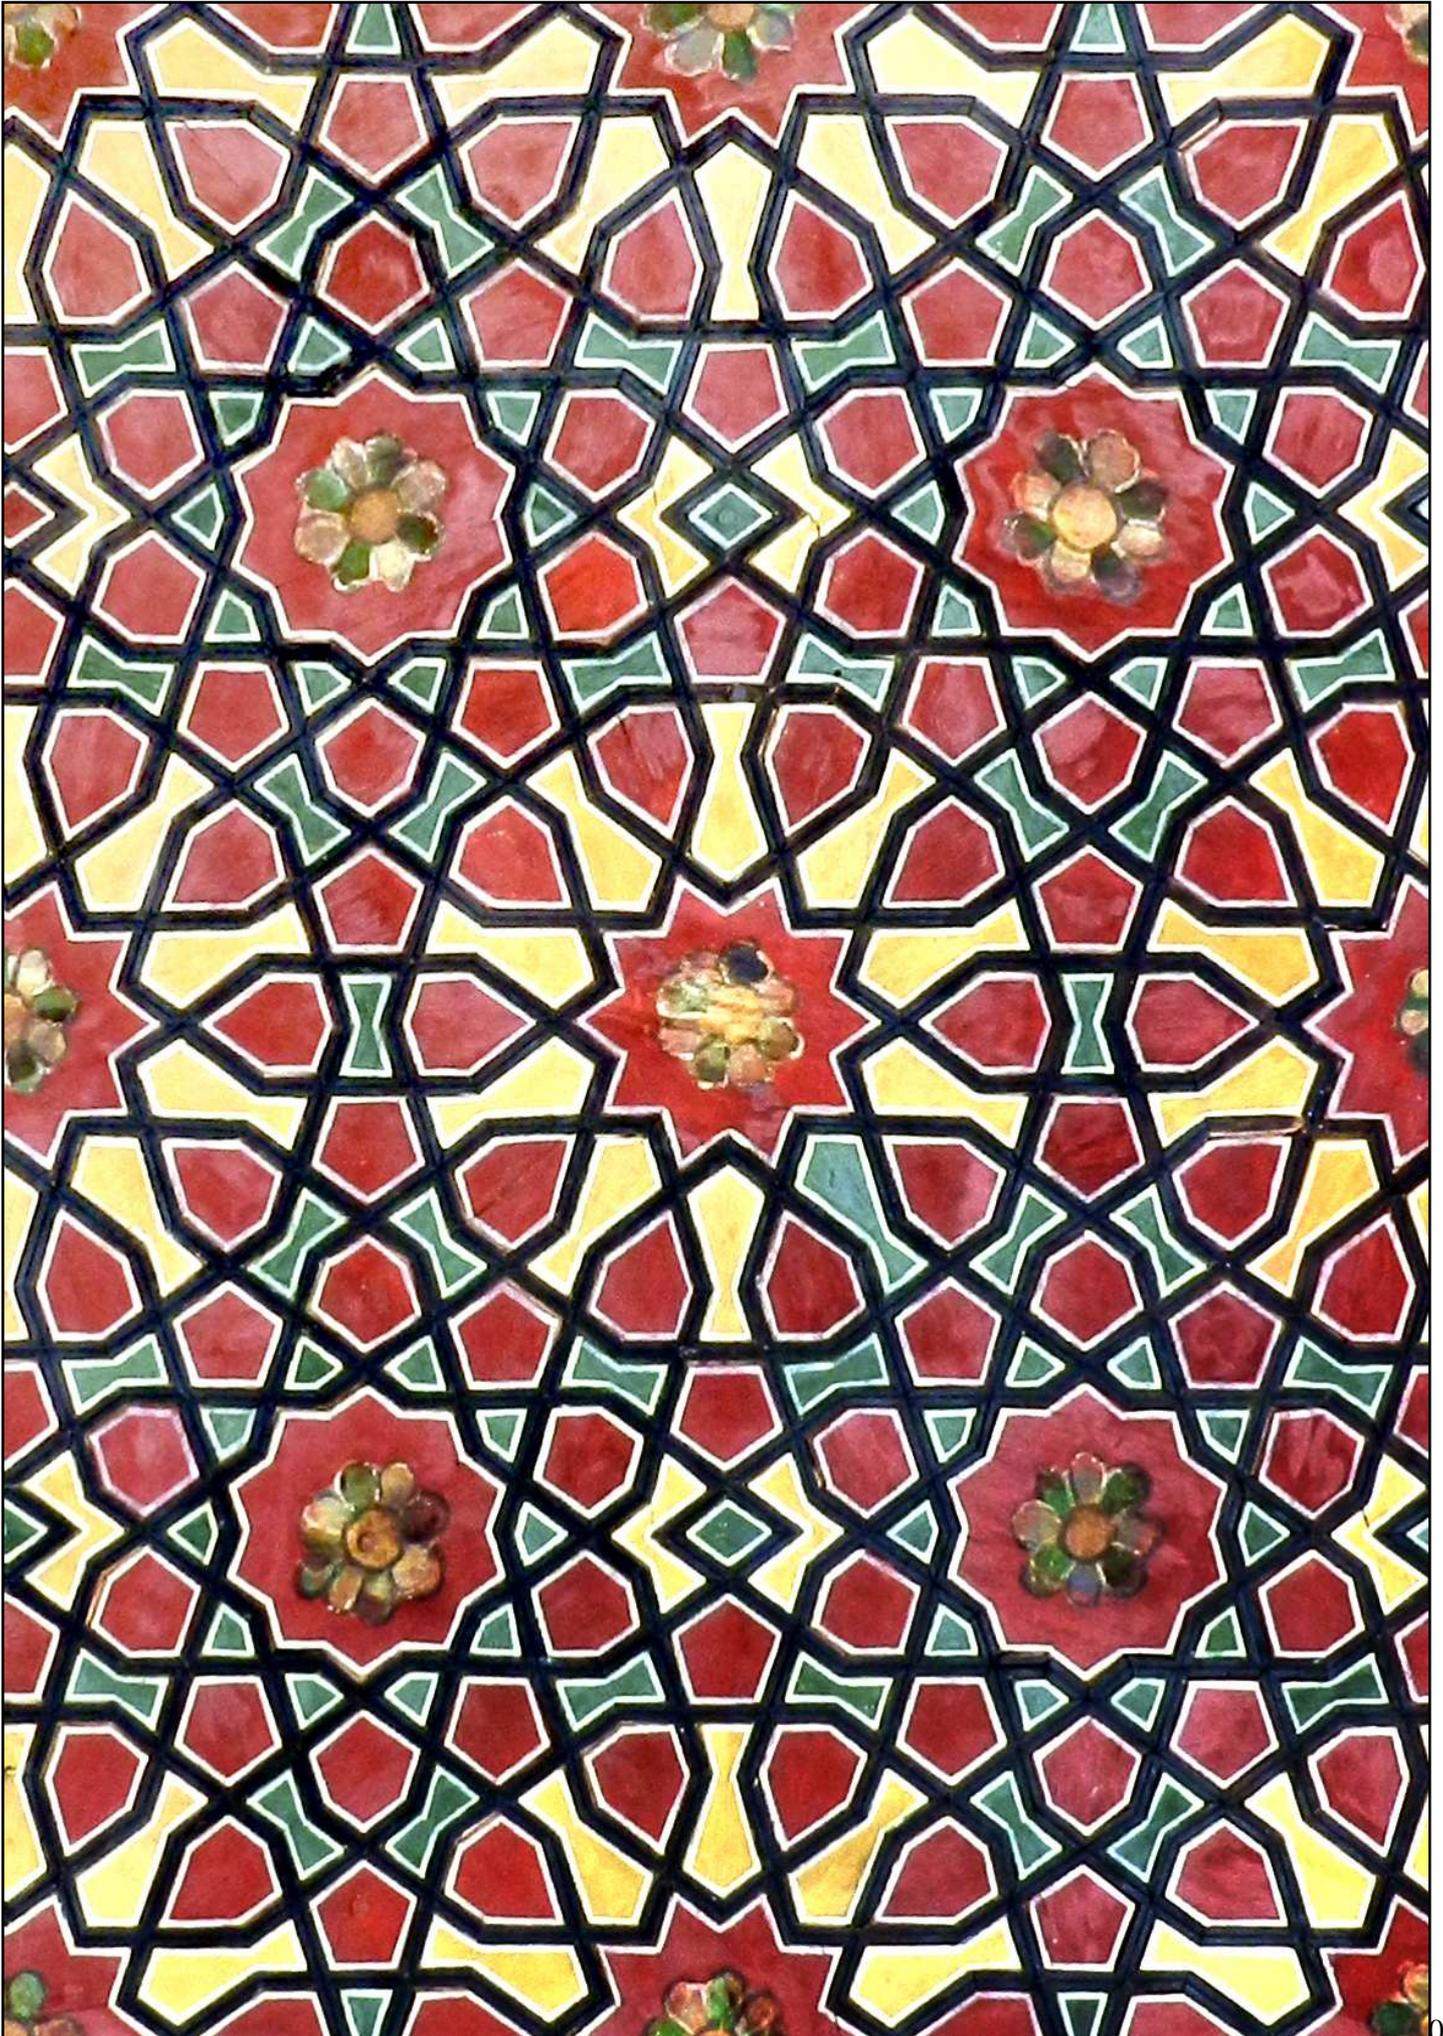

- Plafond du talar du pavillon.
- Modules formés par dix pentagones convexes.
- Combinaison de ces modules.

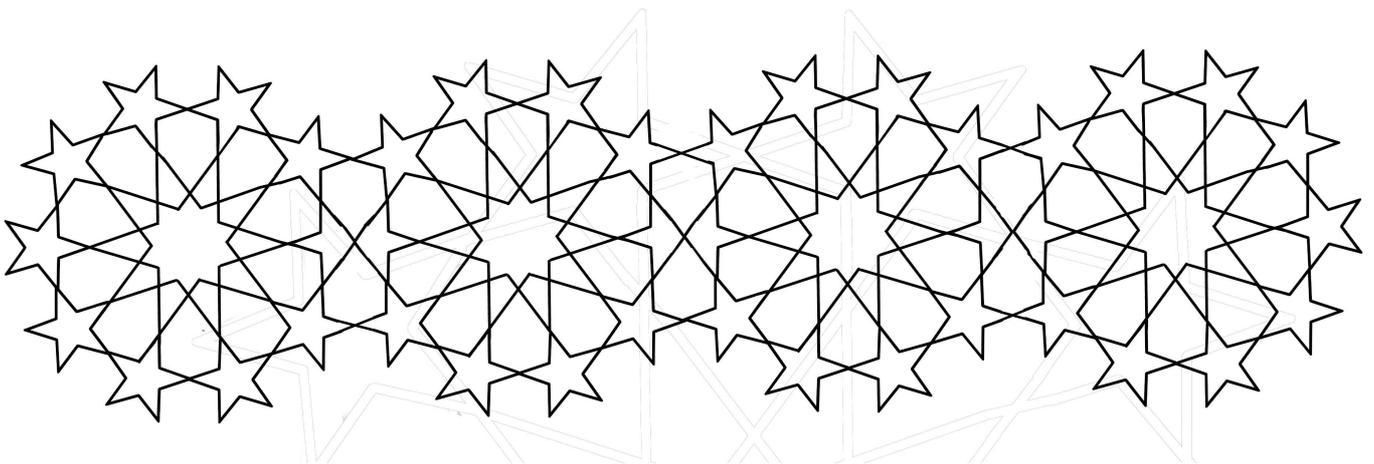

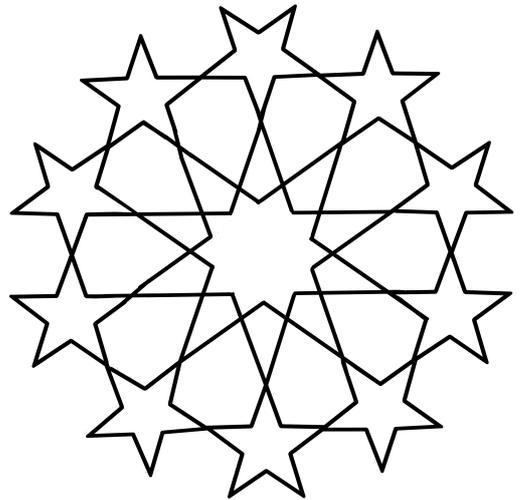

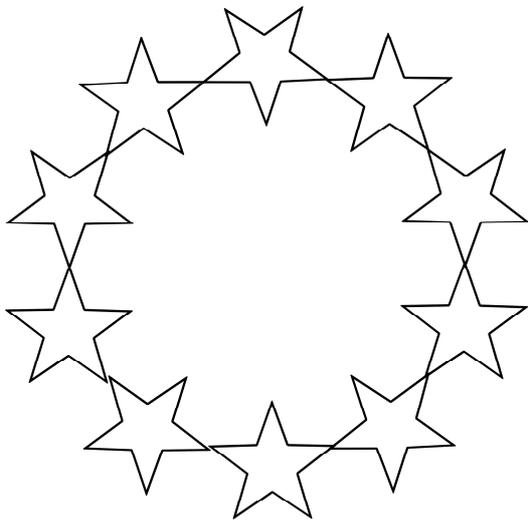

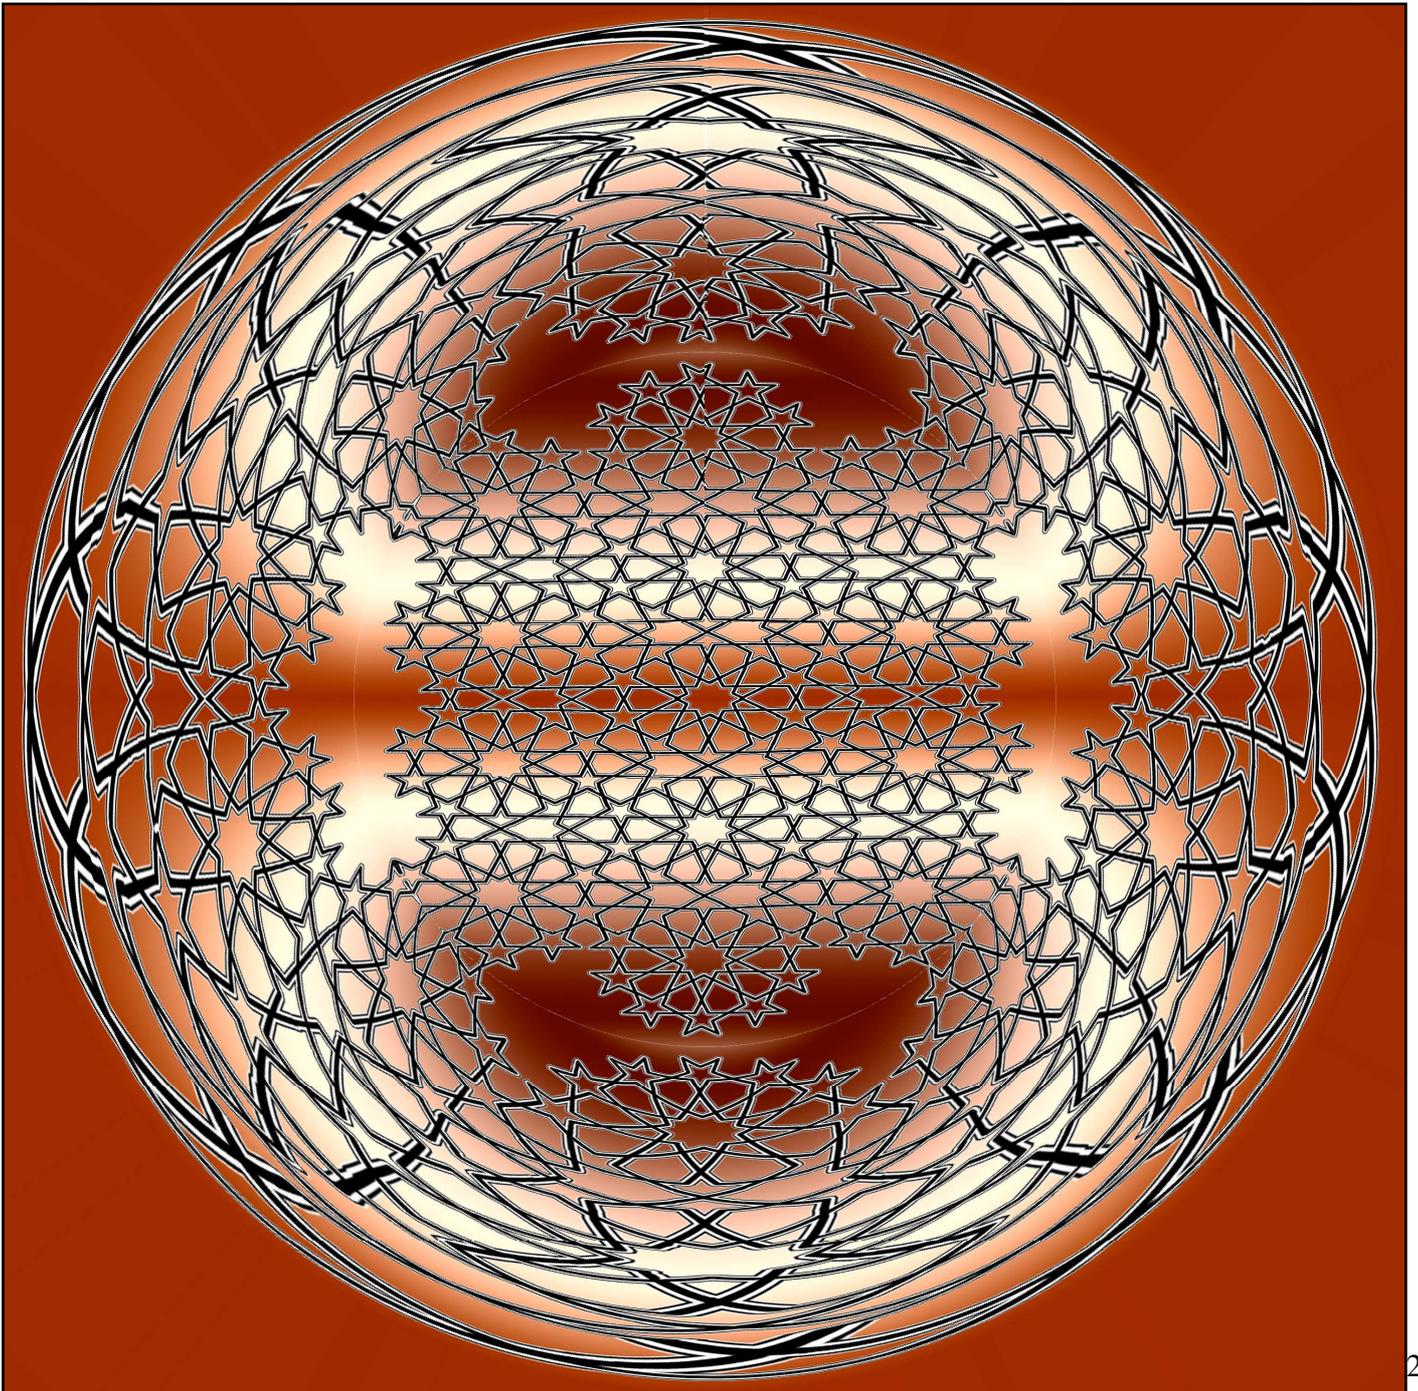

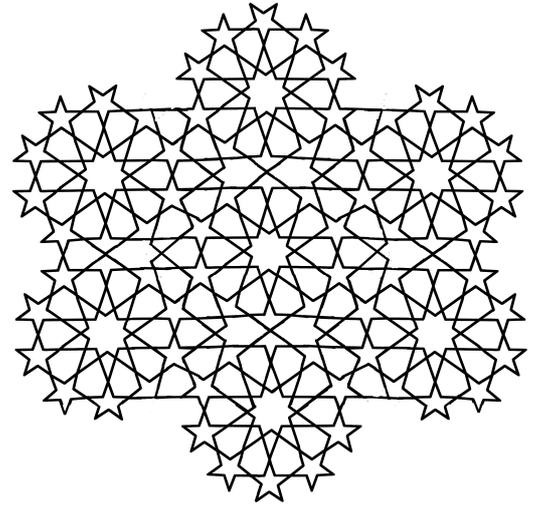

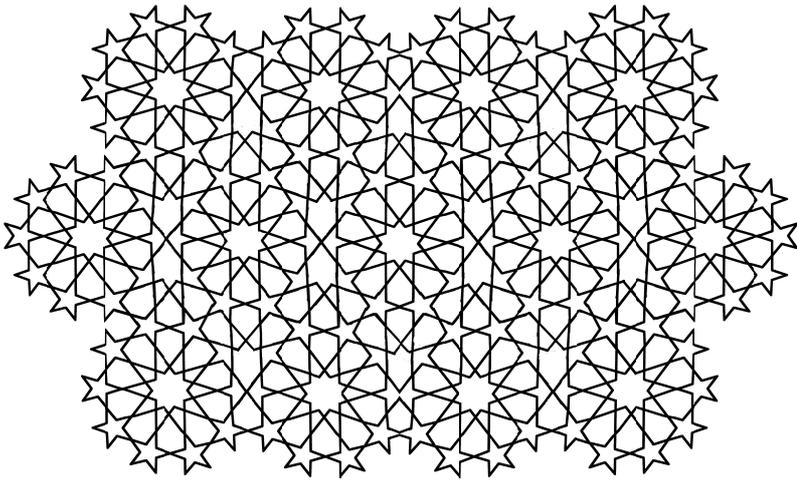

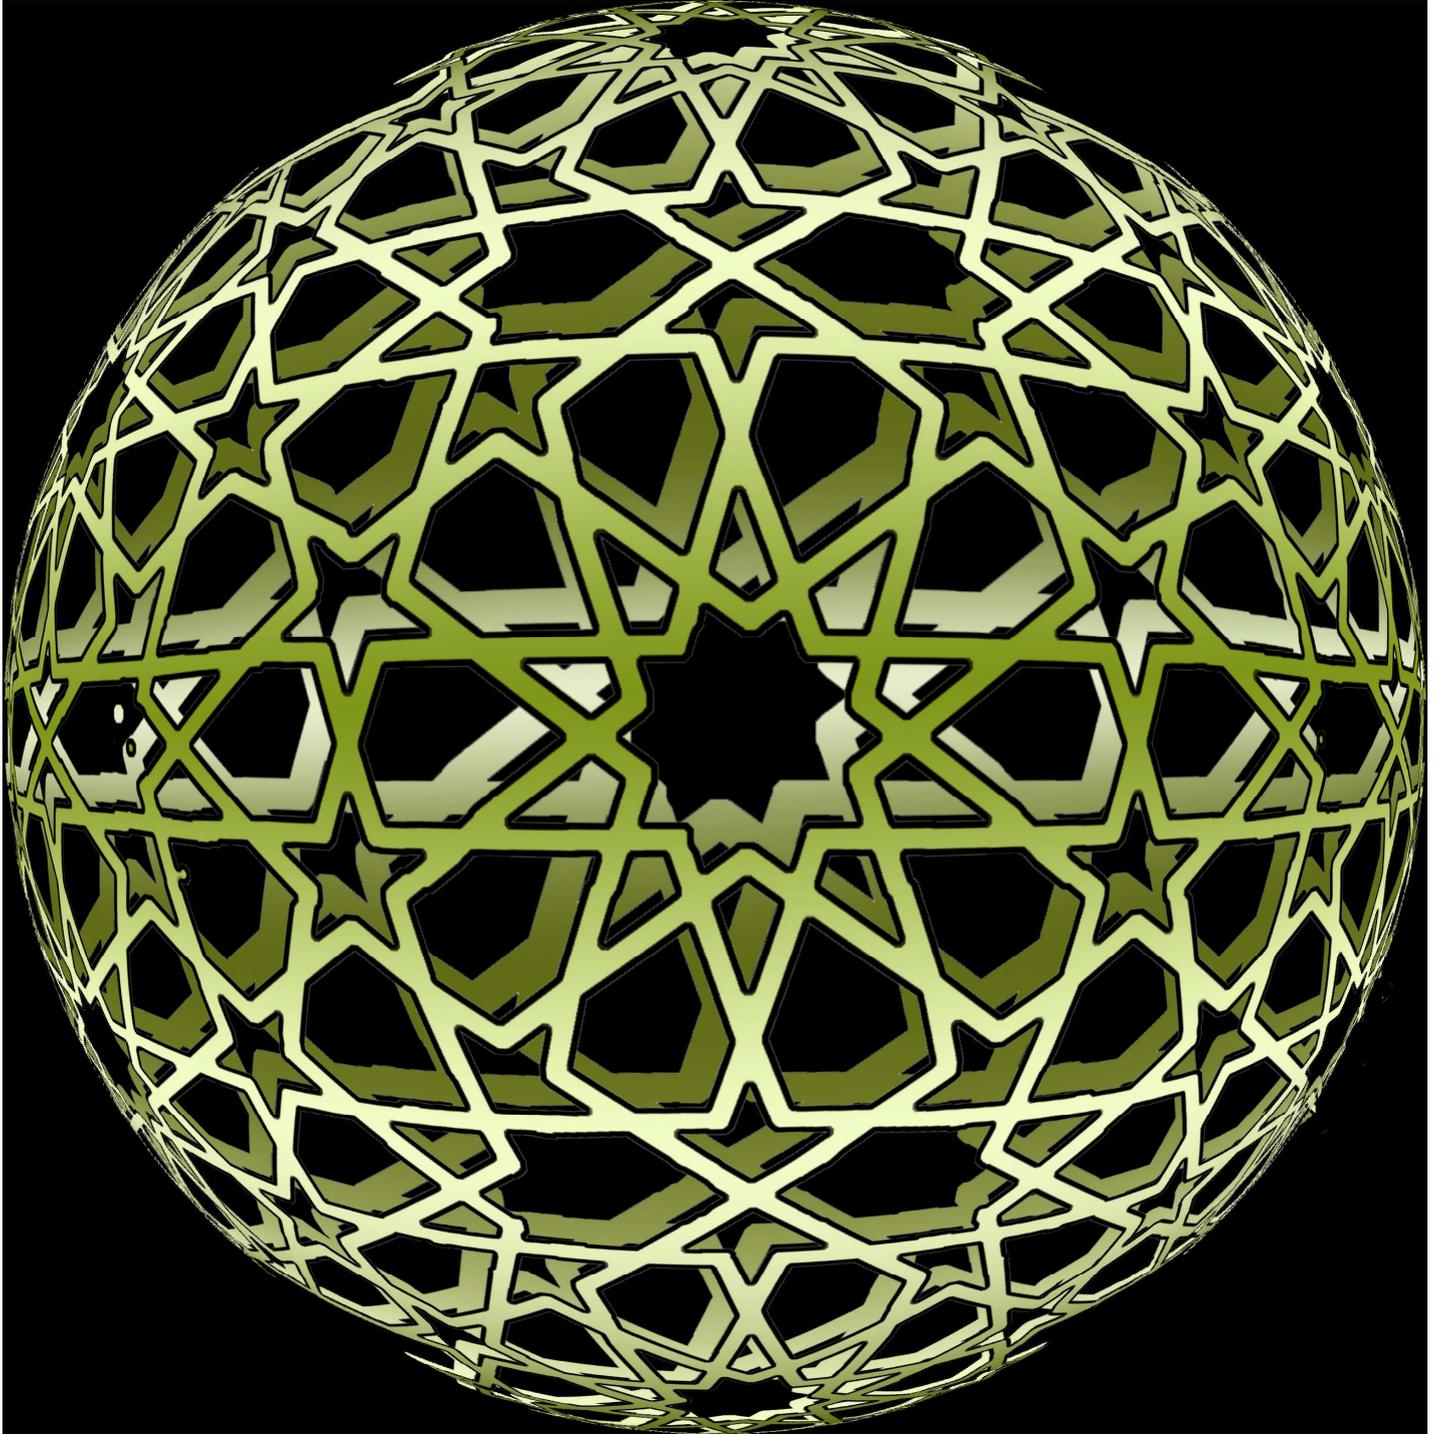

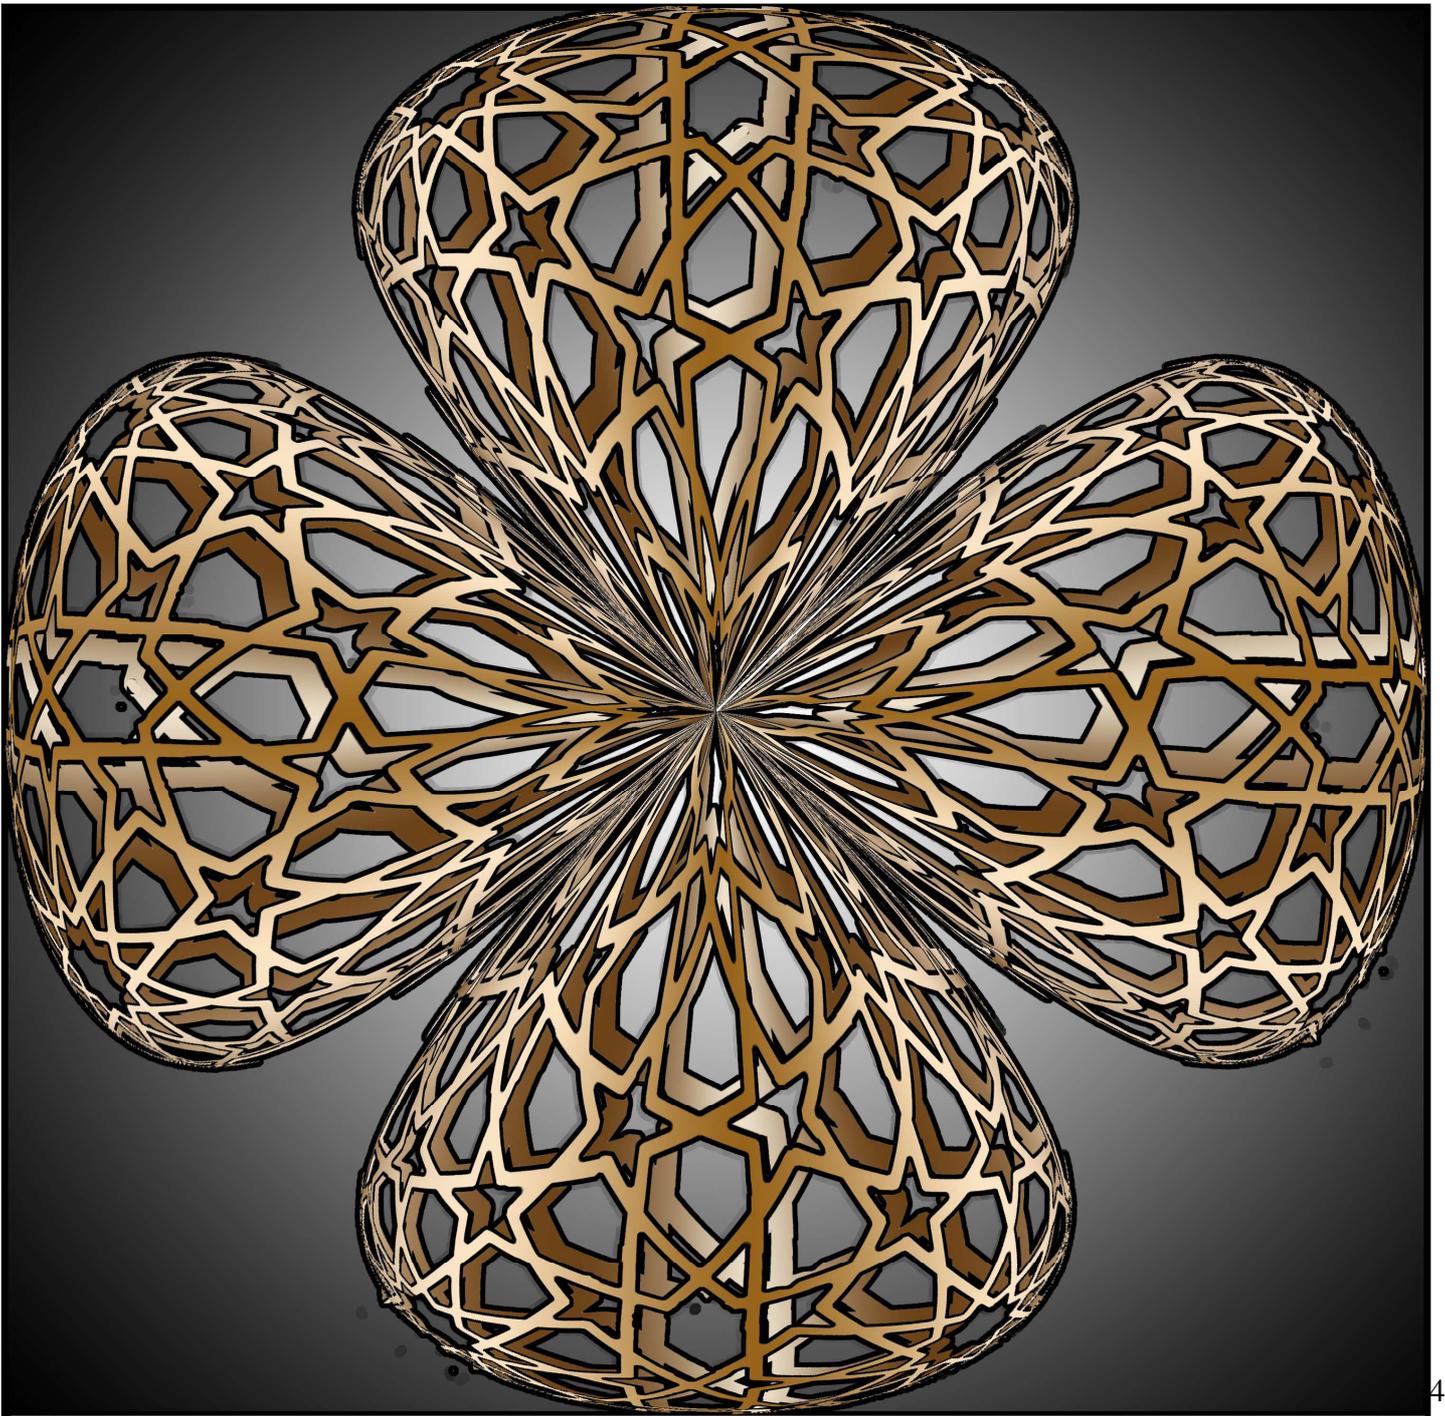

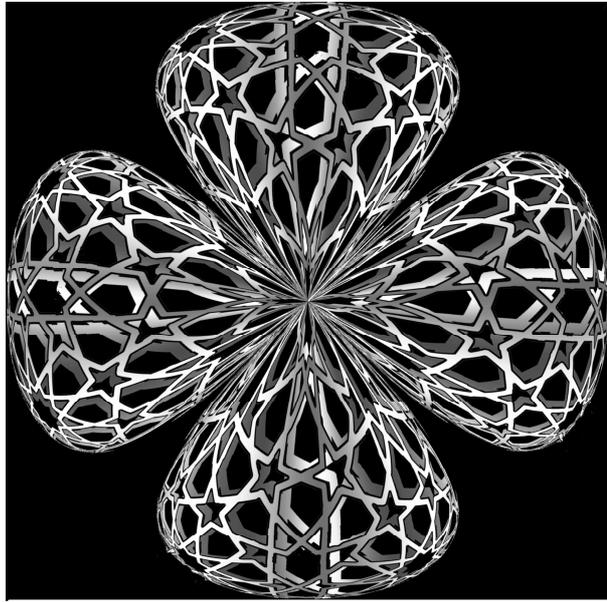

- module formé par une couronne de dix pentagones étoilés.
- composition en quinconce de ce module.

- Module exceptionnel formé par deux étoiles à deux accolées.
- La composition de plusieurs de ces modules forme le motif du plafond du talar.
